

Education Expo™

14 & 15 June 2008 . Rosehill . Sydney

This year we will be exhibiting at the Education Expo™ alongside schools, training colleges, universities, learning resources, apprenticeships, new educational software, government agencies and education specialists.

In addition to hundreds of booths there will be e-learning demonstrations, energetic stage performances, a raw art studio, the Australian Mathematics Competition with speed tests on stage, free canteen samples, professional associations, educational publications, and much more . . .

This is free community event so come along and see us, and all the other attractions.
(for added interest, the Italian Motor Show is in the pavilion next door, if that's your thing.)
